S.T.O.P Education Program is effective in many settings. The program is very beneficial in preventing repeat and first-time sex offenses. The program is offered within correctional institutions, juvenile facilities, workplaces, community outreach programs, churches, and educational institutions. The "S.T.O.P Education Program" is ideal for any individual who could be at higher risk of committing sex crimes, sexual harassment, parental neglect, or child abuse. This program is also very beneficial to those working in law enforcement, human services, the public school system and mental health profession, in becoming an active and well-informed participant of the prevention community.
